

Alexander and Caesar: Two Peas in a Pod?

Gaius Julius Caesar

- He died of 23 stab wounds
- He was dictator of Rome for 1 year
- He was 55 when he was murdered
- He died by the hands of friends
- He was the first in Rome's history

Alexander the Great

- He died of sickness walking home
- He was ruler of many different countries
- He was 33 when he died
- He died with his men

SIMILARITIES

- They both grew up well educated and happy which led to them leading with their amazing battle strategies
- They were both amazing generals and leaders
- They both had beloved horses that they would do anything for
- They both had a lot of people who didn't like them which built up their popularity

"I am not afraid of an army of lions led by a sheep. I am afraid of an army of sheep led by a lion."

Alexander the Great

Julius Caesar and Alexander were indeed 2 peas in a pod. Throughout his life Caesar tried to be like Alexander and they were both huge leaders in history!